NEWS AND VIEWS . . .

And What Have You By BOB CRAIG

There will be an important meeting of all the stockholders of the Hamlin Memorial Hospital Association here Sunday afternoon. I wish that I could assure the people of Hamlin that all the problems facing us in keeping our hospital open will be solved at this meeting — but I can't.

If the proposals submitted at this meeting are adopted then we will have taken the first major step in solving the many problems facing the doctors and the board of directors in keeping a hospital in Hamlin.

The hospital has been operated successfully here for many years and probably would have continued to do so if it could have remained just a matter between the doctors and the board. But when Medicare entered the picture a lot of things changed both here and in every other hospital in the nation.

And it is these new problems with Medicare that are holding up most of the solutions that will assure us of having a hospital here. Any solution that the board and the doctors can come up with must be one that is workable under Medicare.

It is hoped by all concerned that if the stockholders approve the proposals submitted to them here Sunday that everything else will fall into place and arrangements can be completed to keep the hospital open.

If you are a stockholder, I would urge you to attend the meeting Sunday or sign and mail your proxy to J. C. Turner and let's get this first step out of the way so that those working on this project can proceed with all haste.

If it is at all humanly possible — Hamlin needs to keep its hospital and we need to take whatever steps that are needed to reach this goal.

The following suggestions for "lousing up Christmas" were written some years ago by a preacher in Kentucky and I ran across them in the monthly publication of the Nebraska Press Association. They seem as fitting this Christmas season as they did when they were written.

"One of the best ways to begin making a mess of Christmas is by spending more money than you can afford. This helps the economy, and has the added advantage of providing a discussion starter for husbands and wives who ordinarily have nothing to talk about.

"The second way to erase the religious significance is by inundating children with such lavish gifts that they will never appreciate sacrifice and never really know the value of doing without. Give children everything they want or expect. More things purchased for Christmas insure an abundance of things to stumble over and put away all year long; in that way you'll be reminded of Christmas everytime you stub your toe during the year.

"One of the most useful devices yet invented for making a mess of Christmas comes under the heading of the party. High on the list is the office party. By all means celebrate the birth of the Savior by getting stoned. It gives you status.

"The fourth helpful hint has to do with the usual religious observances which various churches insist on scheduling during the Christmas season. Try to avoid these religious services. One certainly ought not be observed going into a church to herald the birth of the Christ. Somebody may think you've gotten religion. Be sure to eliminate all references to God. That way you can kill the spiritual significance of the occasion.

"If you find that you are succumbing to the spirituality of Christmas, then by all means keep your religion on infantile level. Keep

Hospital Association To Meet Sunday

The first major step in keeping the doors of the Hamlin Memorial Hospital open will be taken here Sunday when a special meeting of the stockholders of the Hamlin Memorial Hospital Association will be held. The stockholders will meet in the Hamlin Junior High School auditorium Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m.

Among the items of business to come before the stockholders at the special meeting will be the repeal of the original By-Laws and to adopt new ones, to consider the sale, lease or exchange of all, or substantially all, of the property and assets of the Association, to elect directors, and to consider any other business that might come before the group.

Members of the board of directors and the local doctors, Dr. E. J. Hawkins, Dr. M. L. Smith, and Dr. E. D. Perrin, have been working together since mid-September when the doctors announced that the hospital would close January 1 unless some other arrangements could be made to operate the local hospital.

The doctors blamed Medicare for the problems facing the local hospital and said that they could not continue to operate the hospital under the present arrangements.

In an effort to come up with a workable solution to the problem, it has become necessary for the board of directors to call this special meeting of all stockholders to make some changes in the organization's By-Laws and to come up with a new lease to the doctors which will replace the old one that has expired, according to J. C. Turner, president of the Board.

Turner has urged all members to attend the meeting Sunday and said that while this meeting could not solve all of the problems involved, it is the first step and it is hoped that it will lead to keeping the hospital open.

Letters to Santa

Letters to Santa Claus will be included in the annual Christmas edition of the Hamlin Herald. The Christmas issue will be printed and mailed one day early next week.

All youngsters are urged to send their letters to Santa early so that there will be time to print the letters in the Herald and then they will get to Santa before Christmas. All letters must be in the Herald office before Friday, Dec. 17, or no later than 9 a.m. Monday Dec. 20.

He said that approval by the stockholders of the issues being submitted to them at the meeting Sunday would put the board of directors in position to work out solutions to the many problems facing the community in keeping the hospital open.

Stockholders who cannot attend the meeting Sunday have been provided a proxy form which would permit Turner to cast their vote in the matters coming before the meeting. Turner said that it is essential that a good representative group of stockholders be on hand Sunday or be represented by proxy if these matters are to be taken care of.

All holders of Certificate of Membership of record as of 5 p.m. Dec. 7, 1971, will be entitled to take part in the meeting.

By MRS. R. M. BABB

This is a cool morning but you are aware winter is really here. Guests in the Jim Lanning home recently were his aunt and uncle of California and his sister and her husband of LaMarque, Tex.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Mauldin and Mr. Sol Mauldin drove to Stephenville and Clifton last weekend to visit the Darrel Mauldin and the Kenneth Mauldin families.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lanning drove to College Station last Saturday for the Graduation of Capt. Jimmy Lanning, who received his Master's Degree. Of course, it was a good excuse for them to see the grandchildren.

Our sympathy to the family of Mr. Henry Cook who passed away last Friday.

Mrs. Fred Turner was happy to have in her home and attending Church on Sunday morning, her brother, Herbert McHaney of Roby, Floyce Campbell of Grapevine, Faye Cross of Odessa, and Billy Ruth Marozono of California, sisters.

Mrs. Ruth Brown and Patricia Gaasch had the Christmas party on Saturday

He attributed the record performance of the broad-based building materials producer to increased demand and continuing firm pricing for its major product lines; improved profitability resulting from company-wide cost reduction efforts; elimination of low return operations; and lower interest costs on current

"Lower interest rates and greater availability of mortgage funds, coupled with the administration's continuing efforts to boost the economy,' Walter said, "should find the home construction industry maintaining or exceeding the approximate 2 million unit rate of 1971. There are also indications that non-residential building, somewhat dormant since 1970, will experience a good upturn in 1972.'

NEWS AND VIEWS . . .

And What Have You By BOB CRAIG

There will be an important meeting of all the stockholders of the Hamlin Memorial Hospital Association here Sunday afternoon. I wish that I could assure the people of Hamlin that all the problems facing us in keeping our hospital open will be solved at this meeting — but I can't.

If the proposals submitted at this meeting are adopted then we will have taken the first major step in solving the many problems facing the doctors and the board of directors in keeping a hospital in Hamlin.

The hospital has been operated successfully here for many years and probably would have continued to do so if it could have remained just a matter between the doctors and the board. But when Medicare entered the picture a lot of things changed both here and in every other hospital in the nation.

And it is these new problems with Medicare that are holding up most of the solutions that will assure us of having a hospital here. Any solution that the board and the doctors can come up with must be one that is workable under Medicare.

It is hoped by all concerned that if the stockholders approve the proposals submitted to them here Sunday that everything else will fall into place and arrangements can be completed to keep the hospital open.

If you are a stockholder, I would urge you to attend the meeting Sunday or sign and mail your proxy to J. C. Turner and let's get this first step out of the way so that those working on this project can proceed with all haste.

If it is at all humanly possible -Hamlin needs to keep its hospital and we need to take whatever steps that are needed to reach this goal.

The following suggestions for "lousing up Christmas" were written some years ago by a preacher in Kentucky and I ran across them in monthly publication of the Nebraska Press Association. They seem as fitting this Christmas season as they did when they were written.

"One of the best ways to begin making a mess of Christmas is by spending more money than you can afford. This helps the economy, and has the added advantage of providing a discussion starter for husbands and wives who ordinarily have nothing to talk about.

"The second way to erase the religious significance is by inundating children with such lavish gifts that they will never appreciate sacrifice and never really know the value of doing without. Give children everything they want or expect. More things purchased for Christmas insure an abundance of things to stumble over and put away all year long; in that way you'll be reminded of Christmas everytime you stub your toe during the year.

"One of the most useful devices yet invented for making a mess of Christmas comes under the heading of the party. High on the list is the office party. By all means celebrate the birth of the Savior by getting stoned. It gives you status.

"The fourth helpful hint has to do with the usual religious observances which various churches insist on scheduling during the Christmas season. Try to avoid these religious services. One certainly ought not be observed going into a church to herald the birth of the Christ. Somebody may think you've gotten religion. Be sure to eliminate all references to God. That way you can kill the spiritual significance of the occasion.

"If you find that you are succumbing to the spirituality of Christmas, then by all means keep your religion on infantile level. Keep

Hospital Association To Meet Sunday

The first major step in keeping the doors of the Hamlin Memorial Hospital open will be taken here Sunday when a special meeting of the stockholders of the Hamlin Memorial Hospital Association will be held. The stockholders will meet in the Hamlin Junior High School auditorium Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m.

Among the items of business to come before the stockholders at the special meeting will be the repeal of the original By-Laws and to adopt new ones, to consider the sale, lease or exchange of all, or substantially all, of the property and assets of the Association, to elect directors, and to consider any other business that might come before the group.

Members of the board of directors and the local doctors, Dr. E. J. Hawkins, Dr. M. L. Smith, and Dr. E. D. Perrin, have been working together since mid-September when the doctors announced that the hospital would close January 1 unless some other arrangements could be made to operate the local hospital.

The doctors blamed Medicare for the problems facing the local hospital and said that they could not continue to operate the hospital under the present arrangements.

In an effort to come up with a workable solution to the problem, it has become necessary for the board of directors to call this special meeting of all stockholders to make some changes in the organization's By-Laws and to come up with a new lease to the doctors which will replace the old one that has expired, according to J. C. Turner, president of the Board.

Turner has urged all members to attend the meeting Sunday and said that while this meeting could not solve all of the problems involved, it is the first step and it is hoped that it will lead to keeping the hospital

Letters to Santa

Letters to Santa Claus will be included in the annual Christmas edition of the Hamlin Herald. The Christmas issue will be printed and mailed one day early next week.

All youngsters are urged to send their letters to Santa early so that there will be time to print the letters in the Herald and then they will get to Santa before Christmas. All letters must be in the Herald office before Friday, Dec. 17, or no later than 9 a.m. Monday Dec.

He said that approval by the stockholders of the issues being submitted to them at the meeting Sunday would put the board of directors in position to work out solutions to the many problems facing the community in keeping the hospital open.

Stockholders who cannot attend the meeting Sunday have been provided a proxy form which would permit Turner to cast their vote in the matters coming before the meeting. Turner said that it is essential that a good representative group of stockholders be on hand Sunday or be represented by proxy if these matters are to be taken care of.

All holders of Certificate of Membership of record as of 5 p.m. Dec. 7, 1971, will be entitled to take part in the

million in the similar 1971

He attributed the record performance of the broad-based building materials producer to increased demand and continuing firm pricing for its major product lines; improved profitability resulting from company-wide cost reduction efforts; elimination of low return operations; and lower interest costs on current borrowings. Walter added that prospects are excellent for a continuation of the 1971 homebuilding resurgence through next year.

"Lower interest rates and greater availability of mortgage funds, coupled with the administration's continuing efforts to boost the economy." Walter said, "should find the home construction industry maintaining or exceeding the approximate 2 million unit rate of 1971. There are also indications that non-residential building, somewhat dormant since 1970, will experience a good upturn in 1972.
